

2.1 Introduction

This standard provides a standardised means for Release Creators to make Releases available via Release Distributors. It defines an Atom-based web service architecture. A separate standard defines a message exchange protocol for SFTP.